Additions, Alterations Progressing Rapidly

Congreve Wing to Have Many Improvements; New Offices at Girls' Gym

The additions to Congreve and the Women's Gym are fast becoming realities. The foundation of Congreve North is rising rapidly, while the old gym is being dismantled with equal speed. The renovated gymnasium will have a straight front, minus the familiar towers that now flank the entrance. The present floor space will be doubled by the projected addition. The new structure will provide complete facilities for the women's phys. ed. department and for numerous college clubs. Plans for the wing on Congreve provide for eight double rooms and sixty-seven singles. The outside appearance of the whole building will be enhanced by complete landscape gardening. There will be a large flagstone terrace between the present main dormitory and the addition. The front door of the main part of Congreve, which is no longer in use, will be replaced by a window. A decorative stone balcony will be facing the street in the middle of the central section of the house. Plans also include a stairway connected with the women's gymnasium and the swimming pool.

Biological Institute Holds Open House

Nesmith Hall will be a scene of activity on Friday and Saturday as the Biological Institute holds its first annual open house. With all of the departments in the building cooperating to present exhibits and demonstrations, instructive and interesting sights will greet those who wish to visit. Under the general chairmanship of Richard Beattie, a committee has arranged for a general information desk at the main entrance from where visitors may be guided to exhibitions in zoology, entomology, poultry and animal husbandry, botany, forestry, and bacteriology. Chairmen have been selected from various classes to attend to the details of organization. Friday afternoon special attention will be given the high school students who will be visiting campus then. Friday evening, the University faculty and the townspeople of Durham will be special guests, Saturday morning it is hoped that a large number of mothers will come up. Students are welcome at all times. Part of the zoological exhibit will be concerned with methods of taking blood counts and blood pressure, chicken and pig embryos, and demonstrations in comparative anatomy and evolution. The "Barnacles" will show motion pictures and colored slides of the Isles of Shoals summer school. Prof. Slanetz announces that the bacteriologists will show bacteria commonly found in food, milk, and drinking water, and the bacteria causing common disease. Extension departments will show their work and all of the exhibits will be on the popular level. Entomology will exhibit moths and butterflies, botany will display forest plants, and forestry will show some of the maps and collections which they have made.

Fifteenth Annual Mothers Day Plans Progress Rapidly

Symphony Orchestra, Band, Women's Glee Club Present Student Program

Plans for the annual University of New Hampshire Mothers Day, which will take place next Saturday, May 18, are progressing rapidly, under the committee and its chairman, R.C. Magrath. The chief event of the day will be the music festival which has been compiled and will be directed by Professor B. W. Bergethon. In former years, the Physical Education Department has offered some sort of pageant in celebration, but this year's festival will present something entirely different. The program, a varied and interesting one containing selections by Wagner, Strauss, Handel, Grieg and many others, will be given through the combined efforts of the glee clubs, concert band and the orchestra. The opening selections will be played by the University Concert Band with Jack Mitchell, Neal Batchelder and Russell Beal as solo trumpeters. Next the Women's Glee Club will offer three pieces, featuring Louise Edson and Jeanne Tebo as soloists. The Symphony Orchestra will give two selections followed by the Men's Glee Club with Maxwell Campbell, the soloist. The concluding number, from Tanhauser, is to be given by the combined glee clubs and the university orchestra.

Luncheon, which will be served in the Field House, may be attended by any student who wishes to accompany his mother. Student tickets may be secured at the Business Office on Thursday and Friday or at Registrar.

Sears, Roebuck Co. Will Help Aggies

Present Twelve Yearly Scholarships for Worthy Men in Four Year Course

Twelve $100 scholarships annually for sophomore students enrolled in a four-year course in agriculture have been presented to Dean Eastman by Sears, Roebuck and Company. Mr. C. A. Woods, general manager of the company together with Otis Smith, personnel manager, and S. W. Pettigrew from Chicago, who is in charge of the Sears, Roebuck Agricultural Foundation scholarships, made the presentation after a short conference with the Dean on May 9. These scholarships will be awarded on a basis of need, achievement, and intention to continue in agricultural work after leaving college. Beginning next fall, some part of the fund will be available, and from then on there will be an annual income of $1350. The company inaugurated its scholarship plan four years ago in a number of states in the mid-west and south, and last fall the program was expanded to include land grant colleges in several other states. Dean Eastman feels that this is one of the finest things that has happened in the College of Agriculture for many years. The student with limited resources but with aggressiveness and ability, who has saved enough money to make it possible for him to complete his freshman year with the help of a $75 state grant, now has some assurance that he can get further assistance in his sophomore year. Having completed his sophomore year in good standing, the university will provide loan funds that, with ordinary resourcefulness and ambition, should make it possible for even the poorest farm boy to attain his bachelor's degree.

There will be a rehearsal of Thursday's broadcast this evening at 8 P.M. in the new studio. All members of the cast are urged to be present.

"Kind Lady" Cast Must Acquire New Accents and Techniques

by Mado Crafts

Mask and Dagger's forthcoming production, "Kind Lady", by Edward Chodorov, involves several difficult staging problems, among them that of getting the cast to speak with a polished English accent. Some of the characters are required to speak very refined, very Englishy English, while others must speak with almost a Cockney twang. For all except possibly one member of the cast is entirely new; but being under the direction of Professor W. G. Hennessey, who can speak fluently with the English accent, the whole cast has it down almost cold! Because of the variation of character portrayal in the play, everyone must work all the harder. What Mr. Hennessey tells one person about acting will not necessarily go for the next one. Most of the characters have qualities which are only theirs, so they cannot copy anything another actor does. For example, the leading lady is a very serious person and she must speak softly and mysteriously. She cannot crack a smile when there is nothing for her to do. She must keep an absolute poker-face no matter what happens. On the other hand, the leading man is both a comedian and a very awe-inspiring character. He must laugh in the most tense scenes, and he must break up scenes in which the rest of the characters are feeling light and

Portsmouth, Hope Street, St. John's Prep Win Team Honors; Eleven Records

With eight old records being broken, and three more new ones made because of changes in the rules, the large audience which assembled at Lewis Fields last Saturday, to watch nine hundred schoolboy athletes from 51 secondary schools show their talent, was treated to the finest Interscholastic track and field meet in the twenty-eight year old history of the competition. A brilliant St. John's track team from Danvers, Mass., completely dominated the prep school division, while amassing a total of 56½ points. Second place was captured by Hebron Academy of Hebron, Maine, while Bridgton Academy, also of Maine, won third place. Hope High School of Providence, R. I., was victorious in the out-of-state competition, and Portsmouth for the third year in a row retained its title in the state high school division. Eight existing records were broken by the talented athletes. Ed Stryna

The College of Agriculture

Any state college which purports to work in the interests of the state must take into account the peculiar character and needs of that state. New Hampshire is fundamentally agrarian. We have our flourishing industries, to be sure, but they have never completely recovered from the blow which fell when the cotton mills moved south. And we remain agricultural, a small state of small farms.

During the last two decades, however, the liberal arts college and technology have grown largely to the expense of the aggie curriculum. It has become a minor function of the school, and often a butt for ridicule and derision — “cow collitch, yah, yah.”

Yet the role that the University plays in the education of scientific farmers and in research for new and better farming methods should not be under-emphasized. With our modern facile acceptance of urban life must come a keener realization of its dependence on the land and its products.

So we are delighted to hear of the scholarships to be offered this little-recognized, but very important branch of the University. Financial aid of this sort should make it possible for better training for more of New Hampshire's future farmers.

of Seton Hall accounted for two when he set marks of 191, 9¼ inches in the preparatory javelin throw and 186 feet, 3 inches in the prep hammer throw. The state high school high jump record was raised to 5 feet, 10 3/8 inches by John Hood of Dover, while Richmond Marcum of Thayer Academy leaped 6 feet, 2¾ inches, in the prep school high jump event.

Jimmy Munson of Dover erased the old state high school record in the broad jump when he jumped 21 feet, 2½ inches. Don Burnham, superlative Lebanon High School runner lowered the quarter mile run time when he finished in the remarkable time of 50.4 seconds. Laconia High, fielding a snappy quartet of 220 runners, wiped out the existing record in the state one-half mile relay when they finished with the time of 1 minute, 37.6 seconds.

In the in-state discus throw, in which new rules cut down the size and weight of the discus, Burton Cran of Newport set a record of 126 feet, 6 inches.

The in-state high hurdles were lowered this year, and Methuin of Portsmouth stepped over them in 16.4 seconds to set up a new mark. The 220 low hurdles events for the in-state schools was also changed this season to 200 yards and so the mark of 24 seconds as made by Dawson in winning the event goes on the books as a new record.

The individual star of the day was big Ed Stryna of Seton Hall, the one-track team, who gathered three first places to hang up 15 points and incidentally two new records.

CONSTRUCTION

One important feature of the new construction at Congreve is the glass-enclosed stairways. Not only will the stairs of the part now being built be of this type, but the main staircase in the old portion will be torn out and replaced by one of the same kind. These stairways, which are completely fireproof and encased, have a glass door on every floor. They prevent the stair wells from acting as chimneys in case of fire on one floor.

On the ground floor of Congreve North will be a large game room, while a lounge containing a big fireplace will occupy the front of the main floor. The apartment of the house director and a small parlor will also be located near the front. Laundries and smoking rooms will be provided on each floor as in the other girls' dormitories.

In the basement of the proposed gymnasium will be a smoking lounge, meeting room, fully equipped locker room, a room for classes in individuals, three classrooms, and theater workshop facilities.

A full-sized stage equipped with loft and modern electric switchboard will be at the rear of the gymnasium. Offices for the physical education department will open from the gym floor. A folding partition will divide the floor into two sections for phys. ed. classes. On one side of the main entrance a small kitchen will be connected with a lounge meeting room with a beam ceiling and a stone fireplace.

Additional office space, rooms for Christian Work and Newman Club, and quarters for other organizations are included in the designs for the second floor. These rooms will have a separate exit so that it will not be necessary to enter the gym to leave the second floor.

ON THE SPOT

by Victor E. Tyson, Jr.

After the rather strenuous weekend of sports, high school kids, and a dull Saturday evening, we were able to unearth the following facts about the following people. . . . With all the sunshine of late, Barbara Sanborn is raving about the Tower Tavern sun bath facilities. . . . Then there's the story about Phil Dunlap, Dana Sweet, and Jack Hanlon being down the old Mill Road. . . . We would like to know the story behind Goo-Goo Crooks' new nick-name of “Debbie”. . . . How many of you saw Gregg William's car stuck in three feet of mud up by the ski jump. No wonder Gregg seems to be interested in roller skates. . . . Tommy Stewart did up Hampton over the weekend as a follow up of the Junior Prom time. . . . Art Theros is spending a lot of time over in Portsmouth lately as he tries to catch up on the time lost between Carnival and Prom. . . . We hope that Hank did alright down in New York over the past few days. . . . Spring is in the air, so we seem to be seeing Anne Hawkins and Al Klinge together all the time. . . . Flash: Just about three weeks ago it was suggested in this column that the songs from “Glamorously Yours” be copyrighted. Now—well, it's never too late. . . . Ed Tobey has done some pretty interesting talking in his sleep since he had the Colby Junior College queen down here to our Prom. . . . Herb Findeisen and Martha Vaughan are doing all right, but it leaves brother Will out in the cold as they whip around in his car. . . . For once the “New Hampshire” headlined a human interest story. Three cheers for the Phi Mu's and the Phi Delt's. But what is what on those window shades, girls. . . . Anne Carlisle had Lawrence Bacon taking pictures of Herbie Glines in various poses before the lacrosse game Saturday. . . . Al “Student Director” Lucier's latest good night gag is that he was fixing the aerial of his girl's radio. . . . Hey, Hey, Dick Nellson when are we going to learn who the new head cheer leader is ? ? ? ? ? . . . Paul Conway and Chi O's Shirley Temple are still going, oh, so strongly. . . . Hap Atwood had a nervous breakdown after having Anna up to the Junior Prom. Maybe his new spring clothes had something to do with it. . . . One good gag of the week was Leona Dumont asking Fred Draper what he was going to send his girl for Mother's Day. . . . Mart Hammond was up over the week-end as perhaps Jan should have stayed around. . . . Harry Haynes seems to be putting in a lot of time over at Bulger's, Yes Yes. . . . Clap hands, girls, the Theta Kaps are taking up hop scotch over at Bickford lately. . . . Nelson Bennett tied up Dottie Briggs for two nights in a row over the past week. If this keeps up there will be one less member at those teachers' conventions. . . . After seeing the Three Mad Russians lately, I'm sure that they're really MAD. . . . If the ring ceremony goes through for the class meeting tonight, we'll really have some color and a darn good drawing card for all future Commencement Balls. . . . Fred Cushing of Phi Mu Delta seems to be going out with Mary Sarson quite a bit since the Junior Prom. . . . Ohhhhh, Bob Preston, were we surprised to see your car down at Wallis Sands over the week-end. Of course this could be quite a scoop, couldn't it. . . . Pickles Samaha should be put on Social Pro for those excuses of having to study that he's been offering in order to hit Hampton.

TO THE EDITOR

Editor's Note: The reason that the flag of the United States was not hung with the other flags at the International Banquet in the Commons Saturday night was simply negligence and carelessness on the part of the committee in charge. It is regrettable that this matter was not checked more carefully. We trust that it will be in the future.

A great many people are wondering where the American flag was last Saturday for the decoration of the Christian Work banquet. I am wondering what the excuses of the decorating committee will be. The excuses of “I had not thought of it” and “I did not have time,” are quite inexcusable.

I say more power to you whoever you are, for removing the German flag. How anyone could stand to have the flags of other nations there, particularly the flag of a nation headed by one of the most un-Christian men of all history?

Perhaps those who overlooked the important item forgot our flag and also the persons who said that they didn't see that there was any need for it to be there, would like to live under the German, Russian, Italian or even English or French flags, for awhile. Upon their return to the United States perhaps they would better understand just what the flag of our country really stands for, and means to the people of the United States. Perhaps they will realize that they insulted our country and those who went before to make us what we are today. To me the incident is like a slap in the face which the United States can't stand to take in these troubled times.

To you who are guilty, think twice another time, take time to have a real American flag, in a standard where everyone can see it and be proud we are Americans.

(Signed) One who appreciates our flag and what it stands for.

Miscues Fatal as Freshmen Lose 8-0

The Northeastern freshmen pummelled all over the hapless Kittens to score a 8-0 shutout over the Fabello-men Saturday afternoon at the freshman field. The visitors took every advantage of the eleven errors that the Kittens committed.

Fabello used practically every man on his squad in an attempt to curb the splurge of mishaps. The comedy of errors climaxed in the eighth when the young Huskies score five runs.

etc. . . . Frat pins that have gone the way of all things including Brad Moore's, Stan Low's, and Herb Johnson's. . . . However, Herb's was returned in favor of a diamond ring. . . . I wonder if Billy Corkum was down at the Wildcat waiting for the baseball scores to come in by telegram. . . . Losing many tires lately, Dick You have still got another month. . . . Surprise! Don Crafts makes a swell drunk in Mask and Dagger's “Kind Lady!” Experience? And wait till you see Libby Kinsman string along with her cockney accent. . . . Farris must have it pretty bad to leave a banquet for a tentative date with Mary Peavey. . . . And in closing, “Jiminy” hops 'till next week. . . .

Talk about a three-ring circus, Lewis Fields took an all the aspects of a Roman holiday Saturday, what with ball games, track meets, and lacrosse games. A conservative estimate would say that at least three thousand spectators set their eyes on the various events as they unfolded at the Home of the Wildcat. And the best part of it all is that the majority were "out-of-towners" who will have nothing but a good word for the University for the splendid way in which the multiple program was run off.

"Larry" Stewart's feat of winning three events — old timers would call it the "hat trick"—is all the more amazing when one realizes that the speedy Wildcat was a regular outfielder on the baseball team his sophomore year, and did not turn to track until the winter season of his junior year. As a high schoolmate of mine, I can remember Stewart leaving baseball practice to enter track meets—and winning the dashes in a baseball uniform!

When the baseball team lost its first game of the year to Northeastern, it left the varsity lacrosse force as the only undefeated team thus far into the season. And now Dougal's charges are faced with the prospect of meeting the strong Harvard club this week without the leadership of its two co-captains, Lloyd Coutts and Ario Piretti. Coutts is in line for a permanent appointment in the Marine Corps, hinging upon a physical exam this week, and cannot risk an injury with that "plum" just around the corner. Piretti received a bad cut in the eye last Saturday as the result of a misplaced stick, and his chances of playing against the Crimson are slight. Incidentally, many missed the by-play that went on when the rugged Piretti slumped to the ground after being struck. One of his teammates ran over and said, "Get up and walk over to the bench so Bill can take a look."

"This," said Piretti, "isnt the kind you get up from!"

An embryonic Ted Husing is "Chick" Justice, judging by the manner in which he handled the announcer's job at the track meet. Spectators got quite a chuckle when he commented that an umpire's decision with which Northeastern disagreed "could be plainly seen to be correct from up here,

You track fans who saw Lebanon's Don Burnham walk away with the half and quarter-mile events in the schoolboy track meet were seeing a boy who is sure to be a national star belong long. Yearling Stickmen Down Thornton, 7-0

The Kitten lacrosse team added an easy number three victory to their string last Friday afternoon when they defeated an inexperienced, but scrappy Thornton Academy team, 7-0.

Playing rather lackadaisically, the Kittens rang up four goals in the first eleven minutes and then Coach DuRie removed his first team in favor of his more inexperienced second and third stringers.

"Bing" Miller scored in the opening of the second period and then the Kittens forces ceased shooting for goals and utilized the game to practice up on their passing while under fire.

The third period went scoreless, as the Thornton lads were unable to work the ball in near enough to the Kitten goal to take a shot. With but two minutes left in the ball game, substitute attackmen, Herb Smith and Bob King sank successive goals to end the scoring in the slow, unequal battle.

Thornton Academy was playing its first lacrosse game, and this fact undoubtedly was why the game was so slow. The Kitten subs could have undoubtedly run up the score on the Academy boys, but Coach DuRie stated that inasmuch as the Thornton team was playing its first game, there was little use in sending them home with too lop-sided a score.

Varsity Stickmen Defeat Tufts 14-6

Co-captain Piretti Has Eye Injury; May Keep Him Out of Next Game

The varsity lacrosse men at the present time are still on top in the New England Lacrosse League due to their 15-6 victory over Tufts last Saturday here at Lewis Fields.

A little slow in opening, after two weeks' layoff, the Wildcats were left behind in the scoring as Mitchell scored two quick goals for Tufts in the first two minutes of play. His first period, while Piretti, Sweet and Costanzo threw in four goals for New Hampshire.

With the opening of the second period the Wildcat attack started clicking and eight goals were scored in the two mid-periods while the Jumbos were held scoreless.

Mitchell, Tufts midfield man, opened the last period with his team's 6th and last score, while Sweet scored two successive goals and defenseman Herb Glines, one, to end the game's scoring.

High scorer of the game was Dan Sweet, with five goals to his credit.

Co-captain Piretti received a bad cut over his eye and it will possibly be a week or so, before he will see any heavy action. This will undoubtedly side-line him for the next game.

The postponed Harvard game is to be played either today or this coming Thursday. If the 'Cats can come through with a win over the strong Crimson club, they will have undisputed control of first place in the league.

'Cat Racquet Team Tops Rhode Island

The tennis team bounced back into the winning column Saturday by defeating a strong Rhode Island team 5-4. The match was won via the comeback route when New Hampshire took the last two doubles match. Each team won three of the singles.

Piffard and Hodgdon won their singles matches decisively while three of their less fortunate teammates lost to Captain Ide, Warren and Tew of the Rams. After losing the second set, Weir took the third to knot the team count 3-3.

The match took on a dark outlook for the 'Cats when Ide and Warren took the first doubles. However, Feehey and Morse took their doubles with little difficulty to tie the team scores for the second time. Piffard and Captain Leavitt then completely outmanoeuvred their opponents to win and thereby give the University its third victory in the current season.

Northeastern Conquers Wildcat on Diamond

Wildcats Overcome Huskies Trackmen

Larry Stewart Wins Two Dashes and Broad Jump; Jack Kirk Wins Two Mile

With "Larry" Stewart as big gun, the New Hampshire track forces had an easy day defeating the Northeastern Huskies by the score of 77 1/2 to 57 1/2 in a meet held in conjunction with the schoolboy classic last Saturday on Lewis Field. Stewart added fifteen points to the Wildcat's total by virtue of his three firsts: two coming in the dashes, and the other in the broad jump.

The Wildcats showed their greatest power in the hammer throw and the broad jump, sweeping every place in these two events. In the hammer toss, it was Matt Flaherty, Nellson and Kew, in that order; "Big Matt" getting the iron ball out to 170 feet, 4 inches to lead the pack. As above, Stewart took first place in the broad jump, and was followed by Blythe and Styles. These two events alone garnered 18 points for New Hampshire.

Next to Stewart's performance—one of the best, incidentally, given by a Blue and White trackman in years—came Mike Pieciewicz with his feat of winning both the 100 and 220 low hurdle races. Pieciewicz took both events easily, hardly opening up as indicated by the times.

Jack Kirk continued to rule supreme in the two mile run, and left his field behind to finish over two hundred yards in front of his nearest opponent. The real "race" in this event was for the second position. Ray Rivers uncorked a terrific last lap kick that just barely failed to nip the tiring Prohodosky of Northeastern for the second berth.

Little Warren Jones was the other first place winner for the Sweetmen, coming in first in the mile. For Northeastern, Frank Masciana was outstanding with wins in the half and quarter mile runs.

Lack of Punch and Wild Hurling Account for Loss; Play Bates at Lewiston

Before a large Saturday gathering, the varsity baseball team dropped its first game of the season to a capable and scrappy Northeastern nine by a score of 4-2. Al Roper started for New Hampshire but was removed from the fray in the second round when he failed to gain his usual control.

The trouble all started in the second inning after Sullivan had flied to Adams, Simon rapped a single over second base and immediately proceeded to second on a wild pitch. Roper then went to pieces and walked Barry and Beaten to load the sacks. Urbanik didn't let the complication set, however, as he slammed a one-bagger over Toote Plante's head to rescue two runs. Beaten tallied the third marker while Hall was throwing out Colt. Hank Swasey rushed Buck Jordan into the fracas after the unfortunate Roper passed up Maguire. It just wasn't Al's day.

New Hampshire came back with one in the third when the locals pulled off a perfect double steal. After Plante and Jordan went out, Hallie drew a pass and went to third on Hersey's sharp hit down the first base line. Barry tried to nip Jack off of the bag and Hall sneaked home and on the attempt to snare Midge, Hersey sailed to second. That is all that happened as Clark grounded out. The Wildcats picked up their final tally in the fourth when Swede Larson led off with a safe hit; Adams fanned, Parker walked and was forced by Cryans; Plante strolled and Jordan singled to score Larson with final home marker.

Northeastern score its final run in the eighth on a walk and two singles.

Due to the lack of clutch hitting, New Hampshire threw one scoring chance after the other out the window. In more than one instance they had men in scoring position only to be left stranded by failing to come through with the needed punch.

New Hampshire left Sunday afternoon for its annual Maine invasion. They played Maine yesterday and are engaging the Bobcats of Bates this afternoon.
